Bermuda

Entrepreneurs seeking a prestigious and tax-neutral offshore jurisdiction often choose to register an Exempted Company in Bermuda.

Governed by the Bermuda Companies Act 1981, a Bermuda Exempted Company is designed for international business, allowing 100% foreign ownership with no requirement for local shareholders. Incorporation is efficient, and the jurisdiction is renowned for its stable legal system and strong international reputation.

Every company must maintain a registered office in Bermuda and satisfy local presence requirements through a resident representative, director, or secretary. This well-established jurisdiction is ideal for holding companies, investment structures, intellectual property ownership, international trade, insurance, and other cross-border business activities.

Local Corporate Services

Comprehensive Support

A Bermuda Exempted Company can typically be incorporated within 5-10 business days and requires a minimum of one director and one shareholder, who may be individuals or corporate entities of any nationality.

Exempted Companies are designed for international business and benefit from Bermuda's tax-neutral regime, with no corporate income, capital gains, or withholding taxes. Shareholder information is not publicly available, while every company must maintain a registered office in Bermuda and appoint a Bermuda-resident representative, director, or secretary to satisfy local presence requirements.
